CIO Leaders Expelled From Nevada Co.

Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

The explosion of Murchie miners and citizens of Nevada County in running the CIO-communist leaders out of the county may be compared with the action of a long suffering man whose wife nags and henpecks him over interminable time. Little provocations pile up until they become a mountain. Finally the man goes berserk and shoots his wife to death.

We freely admit the action of the miners and business men did not have a legal leg to stand on, not even a crutch. If anyone wishes to blame the sheriff, it is their privilege of a free country. We don't. It is too much to ask the sheriff to put one hundred and fifty angry citizens in a bull pen 16x20 feet in dimensions. And back of the 150 citizens who acted, were probably 8,000 waiting to act if their services seemed at all necessary.

The reason this newspaper shows on this occasion a rather calloused attitude toward this incident, is frankly because we have never read of, or witnessed any evidence that the CIO is an honest labor union or organization. Its whole brief history is one of law breaking, East and West. If it proposes to reach its objectives by trampling on the Flag and the law, then by its own actions it unleashes the law breaking forces everywhere.

Efforts of Homer Martin and other CIO leaders in the East to purge the CIO ranks of communism have notably failed. The communists which control the CIO have never had any regard for the law of the land except to use it just so far as it served as shield and weapon for tearing down all law. The yelp and the yawp for constitutional rights never ceases. CIO-communist leaders themselves are industriously destroying the rights of all of us.

While the raid of the Murchie miners and Nevada City business men on the picket line on the Red Dog road cannot be defended from a legal standpoint, on the strictly moral side, no one at all disinterested but will grant that they acted under great provocation. There was first of all the attempted illegal lockout, in which 23 men of the 240 men employed in the Murchie voted to strike and to close the mine until such demands as these 23 men made were satisfied. There followed the battle of January 20, when over 100 men were escorted through the picket line reinforced by a large number of Lava Cap CIO workers. Then came weeks of picketing. Small children, little boys and girls, were taught by their parents to yell "scab" at the miners as they went to and fro in daily and nightly shifts. Men and women on the picket line called out even more opprobious epithets. There was the beating up of a Murchie miner at LeBarr Meadows dance. There were thousands of postal cards sent Judge Raglan Tuttle and other county authorities from CIO-communist gatherings far and near, "demanding" the release of six arrested on charge of rioting. There was the soliciting by women auxiliaries of the communists among our merchants for food and money, and always with the implicit threat of boycott unless donations were forthcoming. There was the abuse and threats against the entire community carried by the "Miners Voice," circulated usually between sun-down and sun-up.

These are no legal grounds, we admit, for giving this peace disturbing and communistic group, the "bums rush." But the flesh is weak. The nuisance finally became unbearable, and, just as Amador county did, the long suffering community at last revolted and ushered the paid leaders of these trouble makers across the county borudaries. They promised not to return, and, somehow, we believe this promise will be kept. Moreover we do not expect to see again Mr. Scott Erwin, one time barber, of Wallace Idaho, come West to lead our hard rock miners into the Abundant Life. His attempt to pour hair-oil on the troubled waters failed, and, according to his own statement in the Sacramento press his escape from an interview with Murchie miners, via several back yards in Grass Valley, was extremely narrow.

When a whole community is overwrought in its efforts to restore peace by decidedly rough and ready methods, it is, perhaps, useless to comment on individual and sporadic

Peaceful, Normal Life Of Community Resumed

All is quiet along the Red Dog Road.

There are no pickets there and the possibility of their return is remote.

The leaders of the CIO-Communist group which has plagued Nevada County for nearly three months, were last night ushered under the safe-conduct of Sheriff Carl Tobiassen across the county line to Colfax, where they went their several ways. There were eight in the departing party.

These leaders were Herbert F. Patton, regional director for the CIO-communists; "Red" Adams, who as leader of the CIO at Boca last summer succeeded in closing down the construction work undertaken by the government for the relief of farmers in Nevada state; and Al Garesio, financial secretary of the local CIO-communist organization. All of them departed willingly.

Scott Erwin, another CIO-communist organizer also departed, but without safe conduct. He left hurriedly but willingly.

The party of eight, escorted by Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and his deputies arrived at Colfax in time for the train that passes through there about 1:50 in the morning. Patton, Adams, Garesio and Mike Callizo departed for Oakland. The other four, Marvin Wilbourn, M. Van Houten, Dan McKinnon and George Mattingly, who came down originally from Truckee to aid the local CIO-communists in their losing battle ,departed for Truckee and points east.

Of the other eight of the sixteen who were jailed at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning after being gassed in the CIO headquarters in the Davies building four were miners of the Lava Cap, George Walzer, William Tucker, Harry Fowler and Henry Gibson. They were released in time to resume their shifts.

Elmer L .Willard, A. C. Carroll, P. W. Newell and R. A. Hollander, the others were given their liberty about the same time. Some of them departed for Truckee and some for Grass Valley.

Garesio's family consisting of a wife and two young children will join him in Oakland. At the time of his departure Garesio expected to be away from Nevada City for six months.

At 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the Murchie miners gathered in Washington street back of the sheriff's office, in the expectation of giving the CIO-communist leaders a large escort on their way out of the county.

Sheriff Tobiassen, however, had other plans. Doors to the office were locked. The big garage door along side the office was guarded by an armed deputy. For a time it was believed that there might be a rush on the sheriff's office to seize the CIO leaders. Armed deputies stood ready inside the office to repel any such invasion.

After some parley Garesio, Patton and Adams agreed it would be better to leave Nevada City sometime during the night than to attempt to go at that time. Sheriff Tobiassen went outside, told the crowd of the intention and willingness of the three leaders to leave Nevada county, and shortly thereafter the miners and business men dispersd.

During the height of the excitement outside the sheriff's office, the telephone rang. It was Otto Schiffner on the line. He asked the sheriff for protection for his CIO miners. He wanted an escort for his miners in their buses going on night shift. Tobiassen immediately ordered several deputies to the job. When they arrived at the Plaza, however, to take up their duties as escorts, the CIO workers refused to be accompanied by the deputies, and declared that if they were to be escorted they would refuse to go to work. Under these circumstances the sheriff, of course, withdrew his deputies from their assignment.

No one knows what might have happened to the sixteen men who were jailed early Wednesday morning, if they had been discovered by the irate Murchie miners and business men of Nevada City, particularly if the CIO leaders had been identified. But everyone, with little dissent, agrees that Sheriff Carl Tobiassen used good judgment throughout the day. The safest place for those men was in jail. And none of them were allowed to leave until the hazard of personal injury was removed. The sheriff and his deputies worked night and day to prevent any possible fatalities and to reduce casualties to a minimum during the time that excitement ran high and many otherwise responsible citizens were apparently bereft of sound judgment.

The frantic appeals of Erwin, after his precipitate departure from Grass Valley and arrival in Sacramento, to Governor Merriam, Traffic Chief Raymond Cato, Deputy State Attorney General Jesse Hession, and Assistant United States Attorney G. J. Hjelm, produced one notable result:

The governor told Erwin that he would send more traffic patrolmen to Nevada county if necessary to preserve order. In the meantime, he said, he would not send militia unless requested to do so by Sheriff Tobiassen and District Attorney Stoll.

On this end of the line Sheriff Tobiassen stated briefly that he had the situation well in hand.

Fourteen state traffic police are now on duty in Nevada City and vicinity.

The governor also declared: "I am going to preserve order there (Nevada County) and give everyone the protection they ar entitled to under the law, regardless of who is involved." He added that sending more traffic patrolmen to the seat of the disturbance should satisfy the CIO leaders.

A state car driven by traffic police yesterday morning stopped quietly on Broad street, opposite a car, which had been driven into town by miners from the Spanish mine. The officer in charge stepped across the street, searched the car for weapons and found a revolver. The weapon was confiscated for the time being. The officer said to a reporter for this newspaper. "We were informed this man had a gun in his car. We know he is all right but he is carrying this gun without a license, and under the present conditions, we just think it would be safer to take care of this weapon for awhile. No charges will be preferred."

Miss Elaine Black, Pacific Coast vice president of the International Labor Defense is quoted in Sacramento papers, as saying: "I have been assured of a motorcycle escort of traffic patrolmen from here right up to the doors of the sheriff's office in Nevada City. One man is near death and two others were seriously injured in last night's disturbances. Furthermore we cannot learn the names of all the men arrested, what they are charged with or whether they will be allowed bail."

Apparently the man referred to is Otto Kron, who went with fifteen others to Landis Clinic for treatment following the Tuesday night clash. He is still wearing bandages for scalp abrasions but he was not seriously injured.

Another incident which has thus far escaped the attention of news reporters is the fact that a committee of Murchie miners went ahead of the crowd on the Red Dog road Tuesday night and advised the pickets, massed on the bank there, that if they would leave quietly there would be no trouble. But Otto Kron, who apparently assumed leadership, declared that they had a right to be there and that they would not move unless forced.

EXTRA — WEDNESDAY

A call for help sent out by local CIO-communist leaders to the strong forces in Truckee, late last night brought 10 men down from the top of the Sierras to assist their hard-pressed fellow members in resisting the order to leave town issued last night by Murchie miners and business men.

The Truckee men arrived and went to CIO headquarters in the Davies building in Commercial street and were found there at four o'clock this morning by Jim Allen, night-watchman. Summoning help from the Chief of Police Gar-

BEE REPORTER IS ATTACKED BY ARMED GUARD

Tom Arden, Sacramento Bee reporter, was last Wednesday attacked and threatened by J. E. Clark, a man imported by the Murchie mine to guard the mine. Arden went out to the junction of the Red Dog road and the Murchie mine road in his car and parked near the junction. After exchanging friendly greetings with one of the mine deputies and some Murchie miners there, Arden prepared to take some pictures from the County Road, of about eight hats, battered relics of the pitched battle Tuesday, that were nailed to a telephone pole near the road opposite the junction.

Clark, said to be head of the Murchie mine guards, drove up and commanded Arden to desist from taking any pictures near there in a belligerent manner. Arden stated he was on county property and questioned the right of Clark, who wore no visible badge, to interfere At this point Clark, whose language had from the first been foul and abusive, seized Arden by the neck wtih his left hand and with his right drew a heavy combined black-jack and tear gas gun and raising it over Adren's head, threatened to "conk" him and break his camera if he persisted in trying to take pictures.

Arden reiterated his belief in the lack of authority of Clark, but made no resistance to the burly, two-hundred pound guard. As Arden got into his car to leave, Clark followed him, blackjack still in hand, calling him vile names and saying that he wished he had "conked" him in the first Murchie riot, when he said he had had a chance.

HOME VISITING NURSE ATTENDS 39 PATIENTS

The regular monthly meeting of the Nursing Activities committee of the American Red Cross of Grass Valley and Nevada City was held in the library building of Grass Valley on April 4. Mrs. R. R. Goyne of Nevada City, the chairman, presided.

Miss Clara Sheldon, visiting nurse, gave a report of her work during the month, which included 154 visits on 39 patients. The committee thinks that the work is progressing satisfactorily since this is an entirely new service in the community.

Calls for the nurse may be placed at the Nevada City Hall and Miss Sheldon is anxious to be of help to any one who needs nursing care in their home.

SAFETY LECTURE THIS EVENING

The third lecture on highway safety will be held this evening at the Nevada City high school at eight o'clock. This is one of a series of topics on highway safety and as each topic is discussed as a separate subject those who have not attended previous lectures will not lose any of the effect of the course by joining the class now.

Registration is not required and there is no charge for attendance at any of the lectures.

AUTO COURT IMPROVEMENTS

The John Mlnarich family and Charles Malcolm, owner of an auto court in the old Manzanita Diggings along the west side of the Tahoe-Ukiah highway are making several changes in the property. A deep cut made by old hydraulic operations is being partly filled in front of the auto court. At the Mlnarich home the hill back of the house is being cut down and levelel into the gulches. When completed the work will give much needed level space for buildings and yards. A good many trees and manzanita shrubs have been taken out in the tearing down of the small hills.

TACKS ARE SPREAD ON COMMERCIAL STREET

A large quantity of three quarter inch tacks were spread on Commercial street from the erstwhile CIO-Communist headquarters down to Main street last Tuesday night. It is presumed that this cunning piece of strategy is the work of the sympathizers with the ousted CIO pickets. The tacks were supposedly placed there in an effort to halt the irate caravan of Murchie miners who drove into town to bid farewell to CIO organizers and committee men who were hastily departing from this district. The tacks were cleaned up by a city workman.

ROTARY TOLD OF ADVANTAGES OF BUILDING NOW

The Nevada City Rotary club listened with interest yesterday to an address delivered at their weekly luncheon by C. D. LeMaster, editor and owner of the Western Building Review. Clyde Gwin chairman of the commiteee which had in the charge the arrangements for the installation of the William Bull Meek chapter of E Clampus Vitus last Saturday, gave a short report of the event and especially thanked the committee members who had assisted in making it a success, and paid tribute to the splendid assistance of the Lord Sholto Douglas chapter of Auburn, which sent their expert officers and picturesque bill-goat to put 96 candidates through the rites of the order.

The building industry, Mr. LeMaster said, represents in all its ramifications fifty per cent of all industrial activity in this country. The construction cycle runs for longer than any other business cycle we know about. During the period of 150 years we have never had a building cycle of less than 16 years nor more than 20 years. Business cycles generally are much shorter. Another peculiarity of building cycles is the regularity of their recurrence.

"In 1920 we were building about 34 new family accomodations per month for each 10,000 families. We now stand about 3 new family accomodations for each 10,000 families.

"Today a building dollar buys more home than ever before. Refined materials and better planning makes possible a more livable home at a lesser price. Building today is 20 to 26 per cent cheaper than in 1926-1929. Homes may be built and financed in the most liberal terms ever available."

Lieutenant A. J. Maes, commander of the Grass Valley CCC Camp and Major Carter, District Commander of the CCC of the Sacramento district, visited Superintendent DeWitt Nelson at Tahoe National Forest headquarters yesterday. Major Carter was making an inspection of the camps and stopped over to talk over camps in the Tahoe National Forest with Superintendent Nelson. While in this city they were guests of Mr. Nelson at Rotary. Major Carter gave a short talk on the work of the CCC which proved very interesting to all members of the club.

APPOLLO'S ARROW

Of Nordic radiance and fair with Appollo's grace he moved God-like and young, this son of man
but alas! for all his youth, an arrow loosed from the bow of fair Latona's son pierced his mortal heart.

I had rather he sped thus to God on swift, winged heels of youth than linger here til Time with dry decaying blast, wither his mighty frame
shackle with chains of Age his nimble fleetness or dim his flashing eyes.

SECOND BOMB EXPLODES IN CAR OF DR. STUART

Several days ago Dr. U. H. Stuart who suffers from heart trouble, received another shock when some malicious person for the second time placed a tiny bomb in the wiring under the hood of his car. He parked his machine just below the Lace House and went up town for a time and while away someone unnoticed slipped down between the curb and the car and inserted the bomb.

Dr. Stuart feels it was effort to break the gas screen in the car and had it been three inches lower it would have done so. In breaking the screen it would have ignited one half pint of gasoline and broke the main feed line. The car would have gone up in flames almost at once.

The first time was about six weeks ago. The police are trying to find this law violator as it is against the law to touch the car of another person. Such a thing might cause death by heart failure or the car might get out into traffic and wreck other cars.

CITY COUNCIL DISCUSSED PARK IMPROVEMENTS

The city council last evening considered improvements to Pioneers park. R. J. Bennetts, chairman of the parkcommission, suggested that the unsightly barn, on Park avenue side of the park be removed since the city no longer used it for storage. The council agreed that this should be done. Regarding a motor for lifting the water of Little Deer creek into the filter which was constructed last year the council decided to ask Ed Uren to make an estimate of the cost of installing a motor and the expense of operating it. The city owns a 10 H. P, motor which is not now in use.

Mr. Bennetts reported that the park commission is now engaged in planting 57 trees most of which are deciduous, of beautiful foliage, especially in fall, or are blossoming varieties such as the catalpa.

H. F. Dodson, residing at the end of Jordan street, asked the council to install sewer connections. The council decided to ask Ed Uren to make a survey of the proposed connection. Mrs. Emma Foley, city treasurer reported a balance in the city treasury of $2,544.

City Councilman James Penrose stated that the firemen desired to install equipment for picnic suppers in the park. Mr. Bennetts declared that this would be greatly appreciated and the councilman said that besides the firemen, the cooking equipment would be for the use of all picnic parties.

The following bills were ordered paid:

field Robson and from the sheriff's office, officers arrested the sixteen who were lodged in the county jail.

Frank Misner, deputy sheriff, Allen and two other deputy sheriffs fired a gas bomb through the door of the CIO-communist headquarters and burst in. Three of the new-comers were armed, two with carbines of 32 caliber and a long barreled 22 revolver. Magazines in all the weapons were filled with shells.

On their way to the county jail one of the Truckee CIO members dropped a pair of steel knuckles which were picked up by Allen.

Shortly after midnight, the Murchie miners returned from a fruitless search for H. F. Patton and Scott Erwin in Grass Valley, after finding Erwin's car in a garage back of the Hotel Golden where he makes his headquarters, loaded and packed with luggage ready for flight. A guard was detailed to keep a look-out for Erwin during the night but he did not show up.

Al Garesio, who was also sought, both in Nevada City and Grass Valley, according to the Sacramento Union, had gone to Sacramento for assistance, and while there gave out an interview in which he stated that the picket line on the Red Dog road had been attacked by 200 "vigilanties" worked them over with gas pipes and guns, and that when "enough had been hurt, they were loaded into a truck and taken to a hospital."

Garesio returned to Nevada City in time, however, to welcome the CIO strong-arm squad from Truckee and was arrested along with the others and is now lodged in jail. H. F. Patton returned with him, and was also nabbed and jailed.

The room in the county jail occupied this morning by the sixteen under arrest, is designed to hold a considerable number. It is a large cement room with iron barred windows.

"Red" Adams, communist with a long record, who collided with Sheriff Tobiassen in his high-handed leadership of the CIO-communist workers who seized the bunk houses of the contractors in charge of the Boca dam construction work last summer is in jail.

The following are the names of those arrested: H. F. Patton, CIO-communist regional director and organizer, and Al Garesio, financial secretary of the local organization, "Red" Adams, Marvin O. Wilborn, M. Van Houten, Elmer L. Willard, A. C. Carroll, Harrell, Fowler, P. W. Newell, R. A. Hollander, George Waltzer, former night watchman in Nevada City, Herbert Gibson, George Mattingly, William Tucker, Daniel McKinnon, Mike Callizo.

No charges have as yet been made against these CIO-communists aids of Truckee who apparently volunteered their services.

The Murchie miners after midnight last night, returning from their fruitless quest in Grass Valley burst into the CIO-headquarters in Commercial street, broke up the furniture, destroyed all office records and generally wrecked the interior.

This was two or three hours before the arrival of the Truckee CIO squad, led by the notorious "Red" Adams, whose leadership in last summer's strike at Boca dam threw more than 100 men out of employment and jeopardized the dam which was being built for the relief of farmers in the state of Nevada.

Several carloads of CIO-communists left Reno shortly after midnight, Sheriff Tobiassen reports, but were turned back at Truckee by the CIO secretary, Galbraith, there.

This morning at 8 o'clock a car loaded with a supposed CIO squad from Sacramento, was turned back by the Grass Valley police and traffic officers, and went west on Auburn street five minutes after they arrived.

Fifteen pickets and others were treated for scalp wounds and skin abrasions at the Landis Clinic last night following the battle at 6 o'clock last night on the Red Dog road. Among them were R. V. Bender, Carl Rowley, A. C. Terrill, Walter Tarbuch, William Nosterson, Roy Bockmon, Jay Roberts, Otto Kron, John Uzloz, Robert Brayden, James Cronfield and James Hamilton.

Other than the pickets those who suffered injuries in last night's melee, were Lou Elkus, Carl Foote, Ellis Clark and Ed Bezell.

EXTRA — TUESDAY

The Murchie miners assisted by a group of local business men this afternoon ran the CIO-Communist pickets off the Red Dog road. A score or more were badly beaten, both Murchie miners and CIO-Communists.

The night shift going on duty, enraged by the fact that one of the Murchie miners had been beaten up, in Nevada City gathered at the Plaza and armed with clubs formed a long caravan of cars, each man in the cars with a green cloth tied around his arm, proceeded out the Murchie road.

About a quarter of a mile west of the junction of the Murchie Mine and Red Dog roads, the miners piled out of their cars, and in a long procession, one hundred and twenty five men walked the rest of the way.

There were approximately forty CIO-Communists waiting for them. With clubs and fists the miners attacked the picketers.

They surrounded the CIO group and immediately began flailing them with their clubs. The pickets scattered and ran through the woods. The miners chased them and when they overtook them gave them a beating and sent them down the road.

About a score were suffering from scalp wounds when the battle was over. The miners had a supply of medical kits and those who had charge of this work quickly gave first aid. both to the miners and the injured pickets.

The mine guards stood up on a bank alongside the road armed with shot guns and rifles. They took no part in the battle.

Tom Arden, Bee reporter and representative of that paper in Nevada County, appeared on the scene carrying a camera. He was set upon by three miners and severely beaten and his camera, costing with its synchronizer over $50, was battered to pieces.

Having dispersed the CIO-communists and ordered them to leave town, the Murchie men returned to Nevada City, gathered again in the Plaza and then proceeded up Commercial street with the avowed intention of smashing into the office occupied by the CIO-Communists.

At the door they were met by Frank Davies, city councilman and owner of the building, who dissuaded them from smashing the windows, and breaking the door open, assuring them that there was no one at the headquarters.

Fifty men went over to Grass Valley in search of the leaders, Scott Irwin and a man named Patton, both CIO-organizers. Erwin was formerly a barber in Wallace ,Idaho.

The trouble apparently began when the pickets increased their forces at the junction of the road and began to call the miners as they came and went on their shifts, "scabs" and "s——of——b's."

Yesterday a large group of the miners tore down the tent which has sheltered the pickets during bad weather. Today the pickets appeared with umbrellas and rubber coats.

Following the expulsion of the pickets from the road which they had occupied since January 15, the pickets were given the rush and told to leave the county. On January 20 the Murchie miners escorted by Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and twelve deputies and under the gas guns of the State highway patrol, of whom there were about ten on duty, returned to their work in the mine. Since that time the local CIO-communists have vented their wrath, by calling the miners opprobrious names as they passed on their way to work.

Immediately following the hunt through Nevada City streets for any stray CIO members, the miners went over to Grass Valley and gathered in front of the Hotel Golden where Scott Erwin and some of the other leaders make their headquarters.

They did not succeed in finding Erwin and it was reported that he had left quietly a half hour earlier in his car for the lower country. Al Garesio, Jay Green and Curly Jilbert were also apparently out of town.

The search for the leaders followed a beating administered two or three men who were believed to be CIO-communists. The miners declared the men to find and expel from the county were the "leaders and not their dupes."

A few months ago the CIO-communists attempted to organize in Jackson, Amador county, and the irate miners gathered at pre-arranged hour and rushed them out of the county.

TRAFFIC SAFETY CLASS TO DANCE

Saturday night will inaugurate the first annual dance of the Nevada County Safety Council which is being given in honor of and for the benefit of the Nevada City-Grass Valley Junior Traffic Patrol. The dance will be held in the Veterans Memorial building, Grass Valley.

The Junior Patrol with their distinctive white belts, hats and coats have become an institution for the safety of our younger students and, in fact, for elders as well. So splendidly has their work been done in directing traffic at and nearby the schools that since the Junior Patrol was organized no accidents have occurred to mar the record. A fine achievement for any organization.

The Safety Council is planning to extend and expand the activities of the Junior Traffic Patrol and a part of the money realized will be devoted to equipping the new patrol members and to refurnish the uniforms already in use. The expense of the Junior Traffic Patrol has been borne until now by the civic organizations of the two communities served, the dance is given to relieve the burden.

The Carter-Joseph orchestra of Auburn assures splendid music and in addition to the assurance of a good time it is requested that all interested in supporting the splendid work of the Junior Traffic Patrol attend the dance and give their support to the fine work of the boys.

The Week

By H. M. L. Jr.

Now that the CIO thorn in the side of Nevada City's honest miners has been removed and the clouds of strife are blowing away, it is time to clear up all misunderstanding, that the town may settle down to its normal peace and quiet. It is time to understand the position of Tom Arden, Sacramento Bee reporter, and particularly to understand the facts about the photograph of the first Murchie mine riot which appeared in the Sacramento Bee on January 21. The great hullabaloo about the picture and the cries of "fake, fake"! which were raised about it, were typical of unreasonable comment made by citizens in a highly excited state.

Worthy lovers of truth and justice who made a great to-do about the Bee picture could have saved themselves considerable high blood pressure by an examination of the picture. The scene shows Grant Spears and Deputy Mizner struggling on the ground with Deputy Woods standing over them. To any one-eyed man who gives a careful look to the picture, it is immediately obvious that Woods is not kicking Spears or Mizner, nor does it appear as if he were preparing to do so. One foot, the right, usually used to kick with, is directly under the men on the ground. The other is very obviously raised as if he were trying to step over the two rolling on the ground, almost as if he had stumbled and was recovering his balance. It is the left foot which is off the ground.

While the feeling about the picture was highest, immediately after its publication, Arden secured the negative and exhibited to all skeptics who cared to look. Few bothered to look at it. It is this writer's opinion that among the foremost of these who cried "fake picture" were people who did not know what a photographic negative was. Anyone who examined the negative and compared it with the printed picture and yet remained unconvinced of its authenticity had best remain silent about it, for such an attitude is no credit to their intelligence.

The feeling against Arden which resulted from the misunderstanding about the picture of the first Murchie riot resulted in several of the most unfortunate outbreaks of the recent violence that has characterized the Murchie situation. About 6:15 p. m. Tuesday afternoon Arden was attacked by three Murchie miners, armed with clubs. He was beaten and his expensive camera broken. Apologies were later made for this attack and the miners promised Arden a new camera. Later Tuesday another incident of the same kind occurred when Joe O'Neill attacked Arden following a heated argument between Arden and John W. O'Neill concerning the same Bee photograph. Apologies to Arden were again rendered.

Next day the battered Arden felt that he had received much more than his quota of bruises and apologies for the week, but proceeded about his usual search for news. He went out to the famous junction, of the Red Dog and Murchie mine roads, where he spied on a telephone pole near the smoldering remains of the CIO headquarters, eight grimy hats, relics of Wednesday's pitched battle. Arden sighted his borrowed camera on the hats and was about to snap the scene, when E. J. Clark, head mine guard, drove up and ordered him to stop. Arden remonstated with the burly mine guard, questioning his authority to control his actions on county property. At this point Clark seized Arden by the neck and threatened to strike him with a combined blackjack and tear gas gun which he brandished in the air, shouting vile imprecations as he did so. He stated that he had had a chance to "conk" Arden in the first Murchie mine riot and wished he had done so then. No apologies have yet been made for this attack.

Come good, come bad. Arden still shows up daily at the same old stand for business. He is to be commended for his excellent coverage of a painful situation. Scarcely anyone, except those misled by bull-headed misunderstanding about the photograph, has questioned the fairness of Arden's articles on the Murchie situation. No newspaperman could long hold his job if he attempted to present the news concerning only one side of any controversy, regardless of how strong his sympathies were with what he considered the right side.

SIREN TO SOUND ALARMS IN CITY

Early this week the Nevada City fire department moved their fire siren from the City Hall to the big power pole at the corner of Pine and Broad near the Union office. This siren is used to stop and clear traffic the same as sirens installed at corners in large cities. This siren will also be used to summon in general alarms.

It was used for the first time Wednesday to call firemen to the city hall when the CIO members in the county jail were released. They were to have been pressed into service in case of emergency.

In the past the fire bell was tapped once as a general alarm to summon firemen and also citizens. Several years ago it also called men for fire fighting for the Tahoe National Forest service or before the time of the CCC boys.

exhibitions of brutality. But the attempt of various persons to beat and browbeat newspaper men, sent into this community to report events cannot pass unnoticed. An editorial in the Sacramento Union this morning, denouncing the treatment accorded its representatives here Wednesday, is exactly the kind of an editorial we should have written under similar circumstances. The brutal attack made by an armed guard on Tom Arden of the Sacramento Bee, while engaged in performing his duties for his newspaper on the county road Wednesday morning and the beating given him by Murchie miners Tuesday evening, we resent. We thoroughly dislike bullies, armed or unarmed, deputized officers or not.

On broad general principles, from a very practical standpoint, the attempt to bar newspaper men from reporting what is happening to the CIO-communists in Nevada county is a lamentable blunder. As a matter of fact, the defeat of these communists in their attempt to "muscle in" and disrupt a strong union organization in Nevada county, and to paralyze the mining industry here, is something that should be heralded throughout California and the nation. This defeat administered so decisively in Nevada county will hearten upstanding American citizens everywhere. The farmers in the valley below who face a fearful battle this summer when harvesting arrives, and workers east and west who have been bullied and mulcted by the John L. Lewis organization, these sterling elements of our people will rejoice to know that Nevada county rejects and throws out this alien, communistic spawn. What Nevada county does other communities can do if they have the determination to remain free.

Trying to put an embargo on the news, good or bad, emanating here or anywhere is impossible so long as we are a free people. It is both futile and foolish therefore, to abuse newspaper reporters, sent here to report events. Reports now appearing in the Sacramento Bee and the Sacramento Union, naturally reflect the resentment of their editors at the treatment accorded their representatives. In a morally justifiable attempt to end an intolerable condition here, we are reported to be in condition of practical anarchy. This is extremely unfortunate, and it lies with the community leaders to correct this bad impression we are making abroad.

Champion Circle Seats New Officers

Champion Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, installed officers at a delightful and impressive service last evening in Odd Fellows Hall. Helen Keifer acted as installing officer. Visitors were present from Auburn and Grass Valley besides each member invited a guest to attend the semi-public service. A banquet was served at the conclusion of the program.

The following are the officers: Marie Haddy, guardian neighbor; Helen Keifer, past guardian neighbor; Phoebe Pontiscelli, adviser; Elizabeth Tratton, magician; Jane Baker, clerk; Nance Scheidick, banker; Nettie Sandow, attendant; Mettie Henry, outer sentinel; Marguerite Clark, captain of guards; Jack Raynor, flag bearer; Clara Phillips, musician; Ernestine Flynn, Minnie Young, Mildred Tobiassen, managers; Annie Browning, correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dolan of Boulder street have returned from a several day visit with relatives in San Francisco and other bay cities.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITH DEETER

This week's spring cleaning, in a large way: The decision of th Murchie miners to administer unto the CIO a rapid punt in the pantaloons, and thus rid our fair city of an element that is both disturbing and undesirable. When one comes to a rotten spot in an otherwise superlative apple one usually gets rid of it forthwith and immejit—rotten spots have a way of spreading unless instantly discarded. We are glad to see our citizens taking the necessary action to clean out this canker in our community before it developes into a real sore.

A note to readers: T[illegible] Years in the Malay Jungle" by Carveth Wells. Having lived out there for quite a few years ourselves we recommend it unreservedly as a true portrait entertainingly executed. Seems we are getting our metaphors a bit mixed—excuse it please.

By way of introduction: We would like you to meet one Dennis Dunn. This gent is by way of being a Britisher and a newspaper feature writer, with a humor that is a tripledilly! He has one feature that he calls "The Poisonous Minute," that title in itself is worth the coffee and cakes. We quote (hoping we are not infringing [illegible]'s or something): "Often in my garden, an idle hour to pass, I watch the wriggling wormikins gliding through the grass. Curious little wormikins always I seem to find: whoever can tell which is their top and which is their behind? Crafty, sly little wormikins, creeping through the green, nobody knows whither he goes or whither he has been. Ah! wandering little wormikins, this life so gay and airy, think, my friend, of the destined end —some sparrow's Little Mary! So when I see a sparrow fierce, upon his deadly quest, quickly I pick the wormy up and hide him in my breast." And, if that didn't raise a grin, how about this quip, answering an imaginary correspondent: "Puzzled, Ashton-under-Lynn. You seem to have got it wrong. The tweezers should be held in the right hand and the birthmark in the left. Now try!"

Yes, yes, really we are quitting this very instant.

Cheerio, everybody.

A Glimpse of Building Activity

Vol. 1. APRIL 8, 1938. No. 77.

New redwood fences are the order of the day. Palco pickets are being used on a new fence for the Spring street fence of the Schmidt property on upper Broad street. With Redwood split posts this makes a very long lasting and fine appearing addition to this old home. Andy Rogers is making the installation.

Murphy Paints are being used on a number of jobs in Grass Valley and Nevada City now that the sun is shining again. Interior paint in the fine line is also being used to advantage in Spring Clean-up.

A good stock of mining timbers in sizes up to 12x12 is carried in our yard ready for immediate delivery. Mill shipments can also be had promptly where the quantity warrants such a shipment.

The log siding finished home of J. E. Crawford on the South Star road outside of Grass Valley is well under construction with the roof now being applied. This will be a fine two story home when completed, the upper portion being finished in log siding with the lower story built of round logs.

When you have a problem, which sash adjuster to use—how to finish that bedroom with wallboard, installation of insulation of various kinds, bath room fixtures and walls, these and many other questions will be answered by us. Let us help you get the kind of a home that you want to live in.

Mack: "Say, that was some blonde with you last night. Where did you meet her?"

John: "I dunno. I just opened my wallet and there she was."

BETWEEN DEVIL AND DEEP SEA

Authorities for the statements in the enclosed hypothetical letter are taken from report of Department of Manufacture, Chamber of Commerce of the United States—partially reprinted in Nations Business, April, 1938 issue, pages 100-101.

Nevada City, California
March 29, 1938.

ABC Gold Mining Company
Nevada City
California.

Gentlemen:

We have recently had a conference with your mining superintendent who asked for a legal opinion to guide him in his relations with the company employees. We understand your problem to be as follows: Agents of both the X Labor Union and the Y Labor Union are now engaged in ofganizing the employees at your mine. The feeling among the rival factions is intense and some of the men made threatening remarks, not directed against your company, but against one another.

Your management does not care which of the rival labor groups succeeds in organizing a majority of the employees. You only interest is in seeing that such activities do not interfere with the normal operation of the mine, and, above all, you wish to fully comply with your responsibilities under the law and particularly under the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

After some study of this matter, three possible courses suggest tsemselves.

1. You, as the employer, might discourage the organization of the employees.

2. You might encourage the organization of employees for collective bargaining.

3. You might take no hand in the matter whatsoever.

An attempt will be made to discuss each of the three methods separately.

It would seem clear that you cannot discourage the formation of labor organizations among your employees. The Labor Relations Act defines it as an unfair labor practice to interfere with the formation of any labor organization.

The declared purpose of the Wagner Labor Act is to encourage the practice of collective bargaining and self-organization of employees. From this it might seem that your obvious course would be to do whatever possible toward encouraging your employees to become members of a labor union. However, the situation is not as simple as this. The National Labor Relations Board has held an employer to be in violation of the act because he took steps to encourage collective bargaining among his employees.

With the first two courses of procedure eliminated, there is only one thing left to do. That is to take a completey hands off attitude and do nothing to either encourage or discourage the organization of your men. But it would seem that this policy is also a dangerous one. The Labor Board has held an employer in violation of the act because he failed to use his control over his employees to prevent them from intimidating a union organizer by whom they did not choose to be represented. We cannot, however, advise you to exercise such control for you would then be encouraging the organization of one faction and discouraging the organization of the other. Consequently, you would run afoul of all of the objections taken up under the first two methods of procedure.

In view of the decisions referred to above, we are forced to the conclusion that whatever course you may choose to adopt, you will be in danger of violating the law. You may determine that the only way out will be to close down the property completely until this amazing situation is somehow clarified or adjusted. You will please understand, however, that we do not by any means advise you to take such action. It is entirely possible that the Labor Board will hold that a complete closing down of your property is an unfair discrimination against your employees who have joined the unions.

Yours very truly,
LAW & JUSTICE

'ROSALIE' OPENS HERE ON SUNDAY

"Rosalie," which co-stars Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell, and opens at the Nevada Theatre next Sunday is described as the most lavish musical in the annals of motion pictures.

Twenty five hundred persons appear in the Romanza number alone, which was so large that it took 10,000 amperes of electricity nightly to light the sixty acre set where the spectacle was filmed.

Madame Albertina Rasch, after searching the entire country gathered together 500 of the best ballerines for the number, not to count another 250 tap dancers and 125 acrobatic teams, which the dance director included.

With Miss Powell and Eddy are seen such favorites as Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Ray Bolger, the new European singing sensattion Ilona Massey, Billy Gilbert, Reginald Owen and dozens of others.

The story concerns the love and adventures of a West Pointer who follows his girl to Europe only to discover she's a princess. A thrilling series of events bring them together again. This new musical was directed by W. S. Van Dyke II.

MRS. MEGGERS HEADS CAMPTONVILLE CLUB

CAMPTONVILLE, April 7.—The Womens Club of Camptonville held a regular meeting Friday evening and the annual election of officers at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Meggers. A good attendance was enjoyed and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Olive Groves, president; Mrs. Frank W. Meggers, vice president; Miss Lesta H. Joubert, secretary and Mrs. Julius A.Cassano, treasurer.

It was decided that the club take up the Bee Art in connection with the local schools. It was also decided that in the case of emergency the officers of the club could act as a cabinet on matters not necessitating a meeting of the whole club. In the past there has always been two members entertain when they met and that was changed so that now they will entertain separately.

Following the meeting refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Meggers and a very enjoyable evening was spent. It being that time of the year the hostess had a few April fool sandwiches, but the joke was on her as they were eaten undetected.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ivan Dow have returned from a visit with relatives in Los Angeles. Mrs. Dow's health is much improved since a recent severe attack of pneumonia and is able to be about.
